Dedication

Whether you have been snapped to attention by Mr. Newall in the classroom, on the baseball or soccer field, in proc-tored study, or innocently walking by his house, your step is a bit straighter for the next few paces. Charlie Newall has been keeping the students of Gould Academy on their toes for decades. His dedication to the students of Gould, and especially the class of 1995, will be missed by all. However, we know that he is just down the road and may be running by at 5:00 or checking up on Morales just to make sure he is not late for the bus. Good luck Mr. Newall! Even though we may be a bit safer walking down the hall of the second floor, you will be missed!

Appreciation

Madame, we made it! Your dedication and perseverance with our class is a part of Gould we will not forget. Whether you were telling us to tuck in our shirt, pull up our pants, put on a new skirt, sit up straight, be more polite, speak clearly, count to five, line up quickly, send Mother's Day cards we listened to you out of appreciation for your kindness. We know you are breathing a sigh of relief that we made it, but we will be back! Thank you for all the caring, advice, manners, and support.

Quentin Stockwell

"Copy hearted orb that rules the night, removes the colors from our sight, red is gray and yellow white, but we decide which is right, and which is an illusion. Pin prick holes in a colorless sky, let insipid fingers of light pass by, the mighty light of ten thousand nuns, challenges infinity, and is soon gone. Nighttime, to some, a brief interlude, to others the fear of solitude."

"Brave Halious wake up your steeds, bring the warmth the countryside needs." "Breath deep the gathering gloom, whatchlights fade from every room, bedsetted people look back and lament, another days useless energies spent, impassioned lovers wrestle as one, a lonely man cries out for love and has none, a new mother picks up an suckles her son, senior citizens which they were young."

Cold hearted rob that rules the night, removes the colors from our sight, red is gray and yellow white, but we decide which is right, and which is an illusion."

-The Moody Blues

"I have learned that the ambition of those who follow selfish precepts is not more than a chaotic waste, A finite gain that must be followed by infinite loss. For there is indeed a harmony in the universe, a concordant singing of common weal. To join that song, one must find inner harmony, must find the notes that ring true. There is one other point that can be made about that truth: Evil creatures cannot sing."

-Drizzt Do'Urden

"The gods of the realms are many and varied-or they are the many and varied names and identities tagged onto the same being. I know not-and care not-which."

-Drizzt Do'Urden

"Talking about sex is like talking about summer in Alaska." -J.O.

"But MEEEEESTER TAYYYLORRR?!!?!!?" -Chrissy

Thank you to all my friends (and enemies) for putting up with me. BIG THANKS to all nordic types, you have a place forever in my heart. To all techies a reminder, the only play in which the set collapses in MEDIA. Actors/Actresses; many broken legs and many standing ovations. TO all my teachers the only way to thank you is to succeed. XC "You'll never be happy unless you're going to mock two with your hair on fire." Bean, the Air Force is always looking for air traffic controllers. Ethen carry on the B&J tradition. Chrissy thanks for all the laughs. TO the Junior Point Crew "Dick's commin' in the mornin' boys!" To all future pointers DON'T EAT THE PRUNES!!!!!!!!!!

Allison, Elmindrea, Corey, et. all. Thank you for being there.

Dairen, SHE is out there. (I PROMISE!!)

Mr. Nelson, some day I will shout louder than you.

Mr. Alford, Thank you.

Mr. Taylor, what you have taught me goes well beyond just skiing, for your time and your friendship, I thank you.

"May your lives be as full and happy as ours, and may the seasons be kind to you and your friends. The door of our house is always open to any traveler roaming the dusty path between the woodlands and the plains." -Tim Churchmouse

Corey Coogan

Ketchikan, Alaska, the rain capital of North America, averages 13 feet of precipitation a year. "It was always raining. On our island it was gray and storming or overcast all the time. I forgot what the sun even felt like. Flying out there was the most incredible experience. The plane took off and it was raining as usual. Seconds later we broke through the cloud cover into brilliant sunlight. The forgotten sun had always been there. It was just that I couldn't see it from the ground."

Thanks Keavy and Amy for always being and than enjoying the trees with me. Tamara, thanks for the door that was always open and remember my chair is always there for you. Anji, thanks for your faithful friendship and sharing of introversion. Thanks Q. for teasing me and supporting me through a great deal.

Mrs. Owen, Thanks for being a great teacher, advisor, and friend. Thanks Mr. Taylor for caring and listening. Ms. Whalen, thanks for sharing Ella and your understanding. And lastly Thanks to the many people I've laughed and shared trees with. I love you guys, I'll miss you. - Alison.

"I'm your only friend, I'm not your only friend, but I'm a little glowing friend, but really I'm not actually your friend. But I am." -They Might Be Giants
 "Cookies and milk are better with the milk." -my dear friend Chuck
 "There was once, in the country of Alifbay, a sad city, the saddest of cities, a city so ruinously sad that it had forgotten its name. It stood by a mournful sea full of glumfish, which were so miserable to eat that they made people belch with melancholy even though the skies were blue." -Salman Rushdie
 "Send my roots rain" -Gerard Manley Hopkins
 "And we'll bask in the shadow of yesterdays triumph, and sail on the steel breeze. Come on you boy child, you winner and loser, come on you miner for truth and delusion, and shine!" -Pink Floyd
 "Stuart, I like you. You're not like the other people here in the trailer park." -The Dead Milkmen
 "As if you could kill time without injuring eternity." -Thoreau
 Mr Gardner-The bestest advisor. Thanks for helping me with my oh-so-many problems. Toby-Those chemistry goggles always turned me on. Mel-My long lost twin sister. I WILL beat you at funny bunny some day. Lacrosse is the only real sport. Scott-My favorite blond. Do me a favor, stay out of jail. Nate, Wuzzle-My other favorite blond. You make a good little brother, but your teeth are too sharp. Corey-you're worth a whole cow. Marlis- Celebrate! Studley Dudley-you've got it. Bean-Perhaps we'll meet again in the woods. Until then keep watching that blue sky. Brit-From orientation to Quebec to graduation to ? you've always been a great friend. Never lose that goofy laugh. Darby- You're wrong. Dan-Never stop being a dork, I can't handle a solo act. Thanks for putting up with all of my abuse. You still look better in a skirt than I do. Tamara-I will never forgive you for locking the door while I was in the shower. Just remember everything you ever did to me . . . Revenge is sweetest when it waits. To the whole gang-Anytime, any place, anyone. Coby, Jonah and Grendel-Thanks for helping me through my life at Gould, and for not floating tummy up.
 The cheese will never stand alone.

To all of you, My Friends, My Family, My Teachers, and to Gould: Thank you for your kindness and your wisdom, I love you all.

"Mother Nature has let us flounder all night in the fog. We fight our way: she is telling us with her fog that life is not always a direct sighting; you don't always know where your going; you can only keep fighting with a smile until it breaks and the new light is seen, then you are on your way again. It may be a new direction, but it is a life. Thanks for the fog." — Chapin Wright

To all my friends, thank you for being a part of who I am today I love all of you Brit Keavy we're traveling. Only when one can be true to themselves can they be true with nature.

Colin, thanks for being my best friend most of my life. funny how things come together.

John, you're going to be whatever you want and the best at it.

love

Dad thank you for the gift that you gave me all my life, yourself and every part of you.

love.

Mom meaningful words can't explain our connection. you just know the in's and out's of me and I you that words aren't needed. You're my best friend. I love you.

To the rest I love and respect you and I wish you happiness now and in the future.

Thomas Eckfeldt

Doggies (Bean): I think 5 years is long enough. Being roomies was tres rad. Just make sure when your sleeping that the SEMI-TRUCK under your bed doesn't come out and get you. It's got so many spare tires that you'd be crushed in one pass. Let's get the futura lamp, lava lamp, and the gas ball going and look at whales jumping over the moon. Then we can play games with that guys face. But I can't get to sleep!!!

Sis: Still got 3 more, Hope I wasn't too mean to you. Didn't mean to break your lollypop.

Skea Dogs (Meghan): I always tried to cheer you up but it never worked. Keep trying your pots, you'll get it I know. I have more prints than you. Go HOUSE wherever you are.

Britty Bird (Turtle): CT rots get out!!! The whistle call, Crepere Breton, Nice Rocks, Fabrice Sometimes you got to live on the dreams you still believe, or something like that, you know what I am saying DON'T FORGET!!

Keavy: Mr. Clay doesn't like you today. Neither does gumby!! Mais, je t'aime. Je t'aime.

Vicki: Playing in the mud is fun. Sorry I don't know where Peru is. I didn't know there were snowmobiles in South America.

Shelley: Special, Fireworks, Dinners at 11-what a legend, watching the drunk people, NO QUARTERS!! Mr. Yuk likes bananas and you, Only 7pieces come on I can beat that.

Gos: Lostradamous and Bernard, The boardwalk, LE GRAPH, the wall, Let's go back!! McDonalds the french way. MMMMMMMM ...

Amy: Advisee group, Make me feel better when I wasn't. Thanx.

Mere: I want some gum. Where are the leaves?, Retarded Horse-Just Kidding, Happy pills, Happy gum, Alladin, Broken girl just like me, Pumpkin gut fight, My pumpkin is better than yours. I miss you already.

Marlis: Keep your character, I love it. Don't let anyone tell you to change it photo lab Experiences are rad.

Mollet (molley): Towtruck, boxo dog, bo dog, Miss ya lots, lower fields, looking after me, photo lab experiences, the END

Sasha: The edge, gotta have and you know where to get it. The sugar slolam and my house, how fun it was.

Mrs. Whalen: You busted my butt and I appreciate it but I still think English rots.

Madame: You did a lot for me and I love you for it. Maitre corbeau sur une abre parche tinet on son bec un fromage. You know the rest!!

Uel and coaches: Thanks a lot for everything you taught me just wait someday I will be in the Olympics and then your jaws will drop.

Mom and Dad: Thank you very much for sending me here it was an experience and a half. I love you.

Jonathan "Bean" Falby

Mr. Wight: Hike on, pedal on, paddle on, fly on, get it on bang-a-gong.

Madame: C'est Voulior, C'est pouvoir.

Thea: Never forget the crazy times and when the #$$% @ hits the fan, duck.

Ethan: Keep the piece loaded and ski on.

Doggies: When driving watch out for large semi-trucks; keep ac/dc blasted all the time and don't bother to try and sleep while staring at tapestries in the middle of the night. Remember fast courses downhill and watch out for tuna bones. Rase la chat!

"Maybe we will find this time is the time for finding the meaning of one"-New Grass Revial

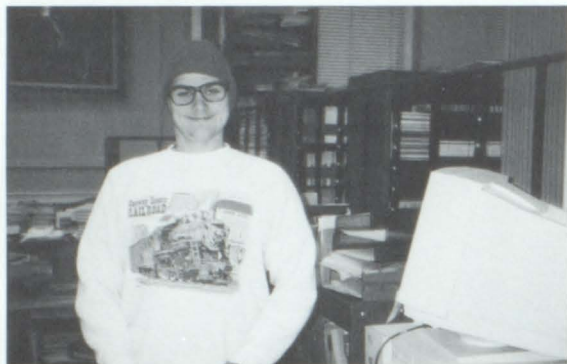

I would like to make a special dedication to my hiking boots and the mile they have carried me.

We have shared the incommunicable experience of war. We have felt, we still feel the passion of life to it's top. In our youths our hearts were touched with fire.-Oliver Wendle Holmes.

Our freedom of speech is freedom or death- Public Enemy

Dad- First and foremost I would like to thank you for being my father and for doing such an outstanding job. Second, plays from the line of scrimmage just never work when called by the sideline. Quarterbacks if they're good, are the real play-callers, like the general on the field. They lead the group into battle and when it's time he lets his army, no matter how big or small, go. Nice call on the handoff.

Grammy- it's really hard to find another word for the deepest thanks.
Mom- only happiness awaits us in the future, thanks.

Troy- Wanna sleep over and we can play a new game called "skate or die?" 7 years ago buddy, stay in touch. Your my best friend and always will be. "Not the new England clam chowder." "Got your apple on, here comes a car?"

Dwight- nice four years. Have fun in college. 50$ will get you one, and P.S. keeps the jackets untucked and the neck warmers off! Later on "D"

Mr. Dorhman- thanks for a great year and for being someone I could look up to, literally.

Jason G-Are they Good? No tennis balls at the door!

My regards to the boys, live on my friends. M.R., N.W., W.H., B.C., J.F.

Misty- I did it! You should of turned prep, but I guess I can forgive you. Always remember Fival the Clown and the theatre. But never forget that I'll always be your little boy. I love you . . . keep in touch.

Bean- you always made me laugh no matter what was going on, thanks for all the tips in Whalen's writing class. Jeb and Shawput would be proud of us if we hiked a new ATP to Alaska, of course thats if the Chevy don't start! Remember: "You know you can wake up with a smile, cause dick is comin' in the mornin'!"

Taki and Go- Hey benpi-sans don't eat too much Ramen. Kitazowa

"I'm the one who has to die when it's time for me to die, so let me live my life the way I want to" - Hendrix

Thea - You must be tired because you've been running through my mind all day. Jess - Did someone leave out a tuna-cheese melt or am I just going to miss you. Abby - "How does it feel to be one of the beautiful people?" I hope you realize all you are. MJ - We've come a long way since fifth grade. Could wouldn't have been half as crazy without ya ... "Soulshine, it's better than sunshine, better than moonshine, damn sure better than rain." Be good to those college boys. Brock - Fate works in weird ways. You've given me so much. "Every moment I've spent with you is heaven unconfessed, You are all I believe in, everything and more." Remain Dork. Ken - "You are my likeness, for we are prisoners of two bodies, formed of one clay. You are my companion on the road of life. And my helper in understanding of truth concealed beyond the clouds." I love you, my soul sista.

Karmen, though you are across the ocean, I will never forget you.

Madore, Sysko, Meghan and Kate - Keep the torch burning, you're of the few left.

Marie - Always remember cookie dough and movies.

Bon - Someday you'll be bigger than Steinbeck, but yours are bigger now.

Ma & Pa - You've always been there for me and it would take me about a lifetime to repay all the love and support. "If I have been unkind, I hope that you can let it go by and if I've been untrue, I hope you know it was never to you. Like a bird on a wire, like a drunk in a midnight choir, I have tried in my way to be free." Thank - you from the bottom of my soul.

Mom and Dad — "Many world's I've come since I first left home." "When I had no wings to fly, you flew to me." G.D. I'll always be your little girl, Daddy and Mom-I will ALWAYS love you. You both have given so much to me and made sacrifices that you didn't have to make so I could be happy. I hope that I can make you happy, because that's what really matters. That you have taught me and I will never forget it. Soulmate — You know who you are, wherever you are ... squeeze my hand-you know I know your thoughts-sit for hours in silence talking up a storm. You made it to the real world and I'll be with you soon and forever. OOB '94 "rocked." Just remember—"Every little thing is gonna be alright!" B.M. "I love you more than words can tell" G.D.

Ken — You'll always hear the song in the road. The long trips we've taken to Grin with the Sunshine Gang will always come back in a flash. "You're eyes tell more than you mean them to" G.D. "I'll miss you my dear Ziola, my classic girl! There ain't no right, just pleasure and pain!" J.A. I wanna party likes it's 1999! I WILL see you then!

Leah-peah — You know who ROCKS the world, my hungarian chica. NBK's are naturally born bad. Next time don't be so "gosh-darn" eager! We've shared lots of crazy times; Pizzeria Uno, breaking bottles for self-defense, doin' jigs for money. Don't worry, be happy!

Trigger — You're not gonna shoot me in the head are you? You want lobster? @$& that! I'll give ya Burger King. Even if I were standing on the moon, I'd rather be with you.

L6 — School's out for ever!!!! If you never remember anything else, don't forget-Perry IS God!

Fi-Fi and Jessica — You got the look! Dizzy! nevesevenfootah! Eat lots of Wish Sandwiches for me. Don't forget to feed the bear, it makes mouths happy!!

Mac-daddy-You're such a hunk! You taught me so much in one week, never mind the past two years, I don't know if I'll ever be able to absorb it all, but I'll do the best I can. But the most important thing you have taught life: Beware of buried moose!

"A healthy woman is much like a wolf: robust, chock-full, strong life force, live-giving, territorially aware, inventive, loyal, roving. Yet, separation from the wildish nature causes a woman's personality to become meager, thin, ghostly, spectral. We are not meant to be puny with frail hair and inability to leap up, inability to chase, to birth, to create a life. The dorm heads of Gehring this year were Nedda Campbell, Meghan Skea, and Jessica Trundy. We were able to organize many successful dorm functions, including a rendition of "Goodnight Sweetheart" sung to Ms. Whalen. We would like to thank the proctors, we couldn't have done it without their help. Ms. Whalen and Ms. Morrison: good luck next year! Special Memories: stacking wood, getting the new TV, mice, THE cook-out, Fitz, fire drills at 2:00 am, Anna French, Jim Jordan and the ghost, things that go bump in the attic, Ramen, The Lemieux Tree, cockroaches, movie night, "your car got towed away". "Overall a good year!" -Ms. Whalen

Holden

Holden had a strong year with such events as cookouts and frequent McDonalds trips. We also had the opportunity to experience Western Art: Troy style. Bad weather prevented us from attending such cultural activities as WWF Wrestlemania. Led by Dorm heads; Sanborn, Hutchins and Proctors; Brian Callahan, Chris Mcnevil, Ben Kamilewicz, and Jason Gazilli everyone seemed to have a fun time.

Davidson

The lounge came and so did the lizards! Davidson got a facelift over March break - a TV lounge/study area. However, the third floor needed greater domestication than this and remained a water fight war zone for the freshman. Mr. Shepard braved the dangerous terrain and even managed to keep his engagement in tact. The Ford's kept the tradition of 10:30 "sugar" fire drills and Marley ran Mr. Alford all around campus. Bean, Rich, Toby, and "Q" were the fearless and fearful proctors combating computer hackers who reined all throughout the dorm as DOOM became the most popular activity. Davidson makes it through another year

D a y S t u d e n t s

The Gould Day Student community this year was composed largely of Welsh Pygmies who commuted daily from southern Paraguay. They arrived early each weekday with much raucous noise and beating of spears against shields. This cacophony of sound would oft drive the defenseless librarian to arms, and she would herd the multitudes forth before her, on the way to assembly. Larger than ever before, this year's horde of 'townies' was led by a fearless, freaky Proctor, young Nathan Wight (who was, in fact, abducted by aliens, who did not remove his brain, but rather replaced his hair follicles, what a horrid deed!). What more can be said about this sordid assortment of silly sods, but that they had their picture taken in the back of two pick-ups ...

SPORTS

Field Hockey

This year's Field Hockey team exploded with team spirit and experienced players. These two things lead the women to capture the MAIAD championship title for the first time in three years. The team was lead by captains Marlis Hamory and Marie Lowell. Marie was the high scorer with 14 goals, which helped to lead the team to a record high of 40 goals against their 18 opponents. Other key offensive players were; Mandy Sysko with 11, Meredith Mason, 10, Hannah Quimby, 4, and center half-back, Shelley MacQuinn with 1. The defensive team also worked hard. Goal keeper, Kate Graham was new to the Huskies cage this year and was voted MIP for the season of saving over 50 goals! The Sportsmanship Award went to Hannah Quimby.

Three players made it to the All-Star Team: Marie Lowell, Mandy Sysko, Shelley MasQuinn. Next years' team will be lead by Molley Maloney, Hannah Quimby, and Mandy Sysko, as tri-captains. Thanks to the coaches, Ms. Breslau and Ms. Lee and their piece of advice - "You're the link? RUN!!!" Good luck next year. Oink, oink, oc boc ... smile girls, and play nice with the radio.

Cross Country Running

The cross-country running team, which placed first (women's team), second (men's team), and first (junior varsity) in the MAISAD Championship this fall, was a motley collection of both experienced and novice runners, motivated and unmotivated, fast and not-so-fast, male, female, young, old, American and international students.

The season's goal was to help each runner make as much progress as possible from his or her level of fitness at the start, to the finish. To reach this goal, we trained and raced infrequently, some more than others. Overall, however, the true goal was to have fun, whether racing on a beach to the theme song from CHARIOTS OF FIRE, or jogging through the woods on Gould's trail system.

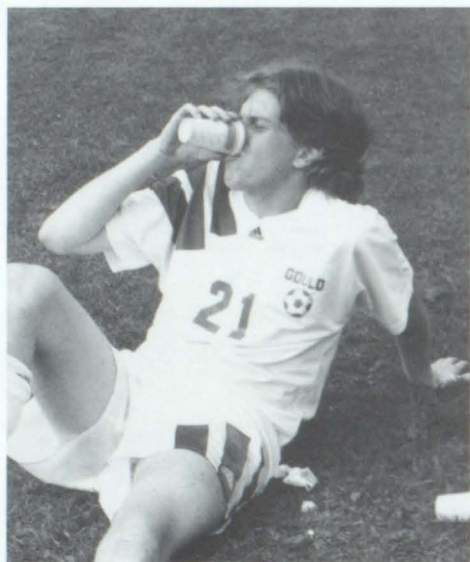

The team selected Captains Jason Gazzilli and Amy Swinton, strong leaders and good friends all season, for the Sportsmanship awards. Brock Pellerin, for his joviality spirit, won the JV award. The team gave the Most Improved awards to Jon Strazza, and the Caitlin Bass/Livka Farrel Duo. The team presented coaches Davis and Pooley with hammers symbolizing their tough, hard as nails approach to coaching and labelled "Something to Build a Base With."

Varsity Soccer

Another difficult year. The Men's Varsity Soccer team ended the season with a 1-10-2 record. This was not because of lack of effort or skill but lack of "something". Who knows what this mysterious "something" was or how to find it but if it were found the team would have been like a stick of explosive dynamite. It just seemed as though the wick was too long and the season too short. As the MAISAD tournament rolled around the team was fortunate enough to get into the tournament. Here, on Gould's soccer fields, the team showed a glimpse of what could have been. Thanks to the coaches for what was in all a great season.

Women's Varsity Soccer

Our major success this season was the spirit of our team, both individually and as a whole. We ended our season in sixth place. We finished third in the MAISAD tournament, which demonstrated our improvements throughout the year.

HIGHLIGHTS: CVA game, Bates scrimmage, Tournament penalty shots, and the benefit dinner for the Cooper's Next years team should prove to be a strong one, these seniors will be missed: Mel and MJ, both three year Varsity players; Kendra and Leah both two year Varsity players; and Jill, Brit and Abby were new TROPHY!

1994 captains- Melinda Johansen and MJ Reed

1995 captains- Thea Murphy and Jen Leipold

JV Soccer

It is not often that you can bring together nineteen individuals and mold them into a winning team. At the first practice we talked about goals we had for the season. One was to win the sportsmanship award. The other was to have fun playing soccer. We also wanted the Maisad Trophy to stay right where it had been for three years.

We managed to win the Maisads on a cold rainy Sunday at Hyde. This was the highlight of the season. We stepped on the field and played some of the best soccer of the season. We were able to keep focused when the odds were against us and pull through.

For the record we were 12-1, we scored 64 goals and allowed 10. For the entire season coach Simard talked about process was more important than results. The efforts we made with the process showed the final product.

To all the members of this team we thank you guys and coach Simard for a wonderful season. "And by the way boys don't forget to FSU."

JV Girl's Soccer

Oftentimes when one reflects over a sports season past, the things that stand out are the goals scored, games won, and records broken. The entire season is summed up on a score card. Yet when the team is a junior varsity soccer team consisting of many players who had never played before, the highlights can be far different.

It is not the scores that are remembered, but rather the moments when rehearsed skill are suddenly put into use with no mistakes, or the excitement that follows not a goal, but a shot on goal.

It was exciting to lose narrowly (2-1) to Hebron in our second encounter with the Lumberjacks after losing 5-0 in the first game. Elin Jonsson scored our goal in the first five minutes. The girls also played an outstanding game against Kents Hill. Both teams were scoreless until the second half; Gould eventually lost 1-0.

Although their record wasn't outstanding, their sportsmanship was. The girls were able to judge their games not by the score, but rather on how well they played, and what they could do better next time.

- Coach Andee Morrison

JJV Soccer

At the onset of the season, first year coach Moore and seasoned veteran Newell knew they were going to have their hands full. Practices began at the very introductory level of attempting to successfully pass the ball back and forth. After only a few practices, however, the coaches knew it would be a season to remember.

With a strong base of veteran players such as Eric Milner, Mark Harries, Jarred Crockett, Ian Bissonette, and Sam Harriety, the nucleus was established. Add to this the presence of several newcomers to the program such as Asher G., Bret H., Jay H., Shane S., Chris B., Reto M., and the ever exciting Derek Z., the ingredients for success were all there. With the aid of Go I., Mr. Lee, and John W., the only thing able to stop us would be a season ending in injury. Matt L. was as stalwart at the net, with a goal averaged of only one per game. When all else failed, we always had our secret weapons. In would come Suwanto T., and Hiro Y., (both playing soccer for the first time) who managed to confuse and befuddle other teams as much as their own.

The season ended with a record of 4-2-1, and countless friendships being formed, renewed and solidified.

Golf

The 1994 Golf team was ably led by captain Walter Hawkes. Although we struggled in the won-loss department, we made up for it in good looks. Walter, Amos, and the rest hit plenty of good lookin' shots. The season's highlight was a win the always talented bridgton squad.

Walter, who played at the no. 1 for the second year in a row was followed by another lefty sophomore Amos Hausman-Rogers, who played the no. 2 spot. The other three "stating" spots were usually played by Ian "tou-pee" Cleary, Joon-Bum Park and Mike Cleary. Rounding out the seven man team was Ben Hall and our token freshmen, Heath Quirk.

Walter walked away with the sportsmanship award and Ben Hall was voted most improved golfer. Amos was also recognized. He was voted captain for next year.

Remember
guys, hit em' straight and play fast.

Varsity Basketball

The Men's Varsity Basketball team this year faced an enormous challenge. They lost four of the five starters from the 93-94 team and with only J.V. players to replace the departed starters the season was going to be a building year. But through teamwork and upsets the Gould men pulled off the school's first tournament appearance in five years.

The highlight of the season was going to Rangley with a 0-3 start and defeating the then number one Lakers by ten points. That game was the best played game of the team possessed talent that could put them on top of Class D Basketball next season. They are losing only one starter, Ian Cleary, to graduation. Leading scorer Lanny Popoola will return along with a seasoned squad to take revenge on a Hyde team that bumped them from the post season. Added to the mix will be some quality J.V. players who are expected to move up to varsity. Next year looks properous and hopeful for Coach Dohrmann and his team.

JV Basketball

This year's J.V. basketball team was an eclectic mix of individuals with basketball experience, athletes who excel in other sports and wanted to give basketball a try, and total newcomers to the game. The result was a team that was not only entertaining to watch, but was competitive in a strong league as well.

In addition, the team more than adequately displayed the diversity that can be found on the Gould campus. At one point during a game, The Huskies truly had an international team on the floor, with representatives from Indonesia, Japan, The Bahamas, Hungary, and the United States leading Gould to victory.

Gould finished the season with a record of 6-7. This mark is deceiving, however, as they were on the losing side of five games that were decided by five points or less, with two of those games involving overtime. The highlight of the season was an overtime loss to Elan School, which had a varsity level team playing in the junior varsity league. It took a four-point play by Elan's point guard with fifteen seconds to put the game in overtime. Gould eventually lost, but the contest was the best of the season, as Gould outplayed the bigger, stronger, and more experienced Elan team in all facets of the game.

Nate Garlick and Chris Millet provided much of the offense, as they were the leading scorers of the year. Justin Browne and Josh Smilovitz were equally as impressive with their tenacity on defense. Matt Lemieux established himself as an intimidator in the paint, as he led the team in blocked shots. The experience of Darren Wiggley was illustrated by his floor leadership and consistently solid play.

Gould was hampered by various injuries throughout the season, and the efforts of Brock Pellerin, to name only one, were sorely missed. Many first year players improved markedly, and with a little work could be contributors in the upcoming season.

Remember, basketball can be played all year round, and it is not too soon to prepare for the next season!

Women's Basketball

Even though the team remembers Mr. Shepard's fine Quotes like: "No whining, Suck it up, and Quit your complaining and moaning!" They had fun and got better.

Season Summary:

Preseason goal: 13-4

Low Point: 103-17 loss to Valley H.S.

Re-evaluated goal: keep opponents score under 50 pts. and improve second time around.

High points: Hyde game #1, and Christian Academy #2

Team song: Cecilia by Simon and Garfunkel

Player Summaries:

Melinda Johanson: Team Capt., offensive guard, and defensive center. She made huge sacrifices for the sake of the team. Averaged 10 pts. per game. She is now headed for Simmons College to play for the women's team.

Kristin Grosso: Tremendous enthusiasm, good out side shot, and good defender.

Mel Rose (place): Known for ferocious rebounding and smart play.

Emily Mayes: Known for playing with pain.

Becca Fraser: Manager turned power forward.

Livka Farrel: Dominant player when mad.

Kamilla Kiss: 3 pt. threat.

Cathy Morgen: Pesky Defender.

Alpine Skiing

This year's Eastern ski team was extremely successful due to the new program's attitude and coaching staff. Coach Gardner, Hutchins and Head were joined by coaches LaVallee and Simard to make up the coaching staff.

At the New England Prep School Championships, Gould placed second in both boys and girls behind New Hampshire's Holderness School. Though Gould's boys beat Holderness in the giant slalom and Gould's girls placed second, Holderness pulled away in the slalom events, what Gould's Director of Skiing Tim LaVallee calls "the great equalizer".

Though LaVallee would have liked to have placed two championship trophies in the awards case; he is pleased with his team's results. "Obviously we went into the Prep School Championships aiming to win, but we are very satisfied with our results", he said. "We have a young team that will be a serious contender for the championship next year.

B-Team

This was a great year for the "B" Ski team. Right from the beginning of the season, the winning racer for all events was from Gould Academy.

With a combination of gate training, free skiing drills, activities and dry-land training, each day was a new challenge, but we skied hard and enjoyed it all.

The MAISAD championships was the definitely the most exciting race of the season. Chris Bassett fell the first run of the slalom and then let it go for his best run of the season and not only won, but by a margin of 6 seconds to win the race!! Jay Horne followed him, along with Nathaniel Fredericks and Brendan Feitelberg. All in the top five! For the women, Elin Jonsson pulled through with a great winning margin followed by Lindsay Richardson and Chloe Tartaglia. The GS results pulled through just the same, with Gould Academy racers taking most of the top five results in both the men's and women's events.

The awards ceremony that afternoon was a Gould Academy sweep. We had won all four events (Men's and Women's, GS and Slalom). Season individual awards were also covered by Gould. For the women, Temma Stout (11), Marlis Hamory (7), Elin Jonsson (6) and Chloe Tartaglia tied for the women's overall title.

For the men, Josh Wharton (9), Micum MacIntyre and Nate Fredericks (tie for 4th), Brendan Feitelberg (2) and Chris Bassett won with a perfect score of 100 points.

Snowboarding

Snowboarding at Gould Academy has developed into a team sport. The team is focused on freestyle riding and competing in local events. Some of our riders were able to rank in the top places of the competitions attended.

Shon Flaherty took fourth place in 15 to 16 year olds and Dave Herberich took first place in the 15 to 16 years olds in the White Mountain Series USASA slope style event at Sunday River. Ian Bissonette took first place in all of the MAISAD giant slalom races that he attended.

This year has been a milestone for snowboarding at Gould. It is the first season snowboarding has taken a turn towards serious training, instruction and competition.

Men's Varsity Baseball

The 1995 ball season started off with a lot of enthusiasm, we had gained some players who were no doubt going to help us out through the season as well as the returning players who were more than ready to get back into the action. As the season progressed we got more comfortable playing together as a team. Mr. Newell and Mr. McGuire always kept us on our toes! We finished the year with a lot of respect, not only from the teams we played, but also from the school community. Best of luck to the 1996 ball club.

Women's Varsity Tennis

The Women's Varsity Tennis Team had a winning season this year, finishing with a record of 5-2. We only lost to one team during the entire season, and although there were no trophies awarded, all players made a great deal of progress.

Doubles team Anji Grajewski and Marlis Hamory had a winning season (4-2) and Melinda Johansen had an exceptional season with a record of 7-1.

At the Singles Tournament, both Vicky Bell and Claire Gros made it to the semi-finals round. In spite of the fact that tennis is such a head game, they played the best tennis they'd played all season, which was a terrific way to end.

Doubles team Marie Lowell and Chris Shaner also played extremely well at the Doubles Tournament, using their heads to think through some difficult shots. They too were successful to the semi-finals round.

Meghan Skea and Jen Curley didn't get too many opportunities to play in match situations during the season, but they showed much improvement and persistence.

The awards this season, as voted for by the team were given to two players. Marlis Hamory earned the Most Improved Award, as someone who was always anxious to play and made tremendous growth during the season. The Sportsmanship award was given to Claire Gros, who always encouraged the team and was able to keep the focus on teamwork and compatibility.

Thanks for a great season!

Coach Johnson

Women's JV Tennis

The Women's JV tennis team had a very successful season. Our 5-4 record included double wins over Hebron and Kents Hill as well as a comeback win against Waynelete after losing our first match to them 1-4.

With solid leadership from seniors Leah Bonnema, Nancy Morgan, and Amy Swinton as well as stellar singles play from Juniors Jed Allard and Chloe Tartaglia the season's success was a true team effort with additional help from Kate Graham, Jodi Odlin, and Maggie Shaner. Jen Allard won the JV Award, but all the players deserved a piece of it. Future tennis stars in the program include Becca Fraser, Kristen Grosso, Emily Mayes, Lindsay Richardson, and Cathy Morgan.

"The Red Top Gang"

Men's Tennis

Both JV and Varsity teams enjoyed winning seasons this year. The Varsity squad, members being Mark Harries, Lucas St. Clair, Rob Graves, Jason Gazzilli, Chris Shearer, Jon Stazza, Asher Ghertner, Ethan Covey, John Batten, and Takehito Kasahara, ended the season with an overall record of 8-3. And the JV squad yielded a respectable 6-1. The members of that squad: Ian Cleary, Bert Brandon, Chaz Zeigler, Rich Dowdswell, Sam Harrity, Chris Millet, and Brandon Feitelberg.

Women's Lacrosse

The women's varsity lacrosse team had a rollercoaster season with a record of 5-5. This year the team was led by the three senior tri-captains: Kendra Hutchinson, high scorer with 29; Brittany Cooper, who averaged an assist a game; and Jill Huntsberger on defense. The team worked very hard all season and its only losses were to the top four teams in the league.

Men's Varsity Lacrosse 1995

Although injuries plagued the Huskies all season, nine seniors lead the team to a fourth place finish in the MAISAD lacrosse league and Gould's strongest showing in recent years. Captain and high scorer, Sasha Rearick '95 anchored the midfield, and was the recipient of the Sportsmanship Award and Banker Trophy for '95. He was joined by fellow classmates Walter Hawkes '95, Brendon Cooley '95, Eric Ritter '95, Mike Rackliffe '95, Taylor Phillips '95, Tom Eckfeldt '95, and three year starters Toby Buckingham '95, and Andrew Smith '95.

The outlook for varsity lacrosse looks bright, and hopes are running high for '96. Captain elect Chris Cardello '96 returns to lead first year players Jeremy Vail '96 and Chuck Mason '96, along with Ian Bissonette '96, Ben Hall '96, Nate Deyesso '96, Go Ishii '96, Scott Sawyer '97, and the Most Improved Award winner of '95, goalie Eric Renna '96.

J.V. Men's Lacrosse

The men's JV team had a rookie season with only four experienced players signing on in April. This resulted in a slow start in the win-loss column yet constant improvement throughout the season. 4-8 was our final record with three of the wins being the last three games of the season. We even made it to the JV semi-finals!

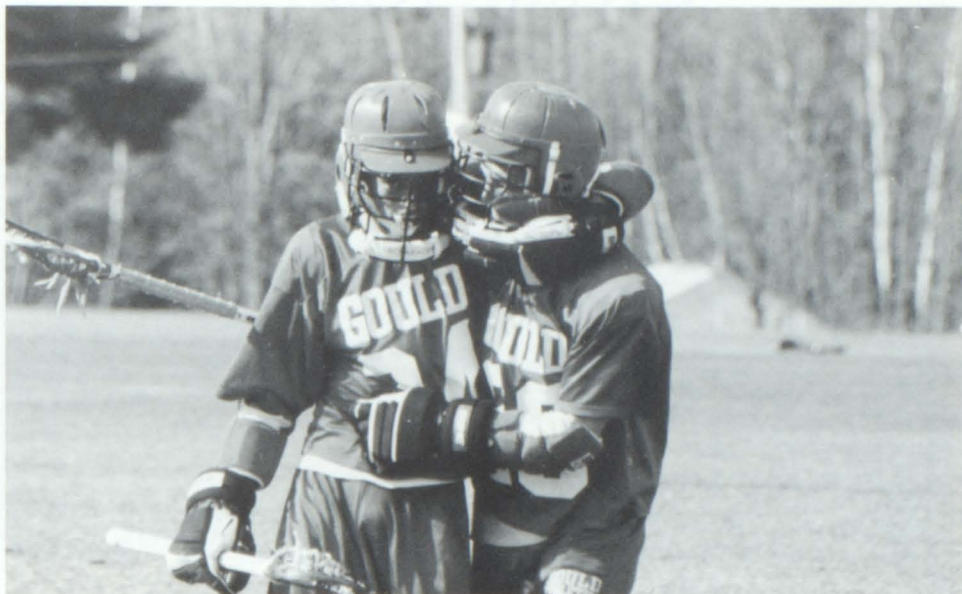

All of the defense were rookies yet we saw solid play from Dan Leblanc, Matt L., Scott V., Reto M., and Shane S., Golie Zack Leck played his second season in the nets.

The attack this year was led by Eric R. with 23 of the teams 46 goals. Mike C. had the highest number of assists and Nate F., Chris B., and Rich L., were other important contributors.

Veteran middle and coach's award winner Dace H. had 9 goals and 4 assists, Andrew S. had 8 goals and 4 assists.

Dave B., EJ Cheney., Wyatt G., Yugi N., Sung P., Chistoffer S., and Matt W. rounded out the team with many contributions.

A special thanks to Jess F. for another great managing year.

Winter Carnival

Winter Carnival

Winter Carnival this year was a challenge. This was due to the fact that there was little snow. However, in the Gould tradition, the students took control and made a marvelous event out of a possibly foppish situation. The weekend started off with the traditional Night Time Cross Country Ski Race, on Friday. This was pulled off wonderfully by a dedicated crew, despite the lack of snow. After the race, there was hot chocolate, and the crowning of the king and queen, Ben Kamilewicz and Amy Swinton, at a beautifully constructed, and roaring, bonfire. On Saturday, the fun continued with the Dog-sled and Toboggan Races. Once again, hard work prevailed over less than spectacular conditions. At night the classes performed in the Air Band Contest, and danced to jive tunes afterward. Sunday was the day for the Judging of the Snow-Sculptures, the Tallying of points from the Scavenger Hunt, and the legendary Spink Rink. All in all, a great time was had by everyone on campus, and many compliments were given. The Freshmen, as might be expected, took dead last, the Juniors and Seniors tied for second, and the Sophomores barely took First. Congratulations, boys and girls, and a great job!

Darby - "Oh no, we don't have a picture of that either."

Ms. W - "Stephan or Brian, did you guys take a picture of that?"

Stephan, Brian - "Can we go to Big Bob's? We'll take that picture later."

Mel - "Where are the pictures, guys?"

Brian, Stephan - "Uh, uh ... do you want anything from Big Bob's?"

Jess, Nedda - "Did you ruin that picture also?"

Ms. W - "Okay, level, where are the pictures?"

Brian - "Stephan will tell you."

Stephan - "It was Brian's fault."

Jess, Nedda - "They ruined them, the negatives were dropped."

Darby - "Nedda, stop talking or I will shoot you with my Cropper!"

Elin - "Well if you guys don't need anything typed ..."

Cory - "I need to leave early."

In all phases of this year's production, the good intentions were present. Min Koo Kang diligently walked up and down the stairs typing up pages, Mike R. was the resident computer genius, Sasha saved the day with a few key photos, Andrew S. and Rich L. escaped Fall sports for the 'Book, Matt Wright and Tom W. ran errands for us, daily. All the Yearbook helpers have melted into a pile of unorganized pictures, lost write-ups, Croppers, negatives, and lazer trips to Lewiston. Thanks to all who donated pictures, submitted write-ups and showed up for their advisee picture. Another one down ....

Big Sister/Little Sister Program

The Big Sister/Little Sister program helps to bring the freshman and junior class together and allows the freshmen to know that they have someone to talk with. During the summer the juniors and the freshman were paired up and we exchanged letters before arriving at Gould. During the year we had dessert parties, went rollerskating and had a final picnic. We had a lot of fun this year and many friendships were formed.

Reachout

Dr. Ouwinga's organization is a very good one because it is a group which does good and provides a link between the Gould community and the outside world. Dr. Ouwinga and his Reachout students try to make contributions to those less fortunate than most; they raise funds for various projects such as the Third World Children program. Another major activity is writing letters for Amnesty International.

The RugRats Program

This year's group of Rugrat instructors was the largest ever, numbering 24 people. Once again, the program enrolled over 70 third, fourth, and fifth graders from Crescent Park School and our season was considered an unqualified success. Gould instructors were trained before Christmas by Sunday River Skier Development staff in the finer points of children's ski instruction. After Christmas break, the groups were broken down and we hit the slopes. Whether the group was on White Heat or going up the chairlift for the first time, everyone showed lots of improvement. When we weren't on the slopes with the kids, instructors got to free ski. Monday was everyone's favorite day (especially Spike McCormick) because it was volleyball day. At our awards assembly, the instructors voted BJ Otten as recipient of the Eric Bennett award for outstanding instructor. It was another great year.

Ski Patrol

The ski patrol had a banner year during the winter of 1994-95. With the help of lots of professional and volunteer patrollers at Sunday River, the student patrollers worked daily learning the necessary skills to be good ski patrollers. These skills ranged from the glamorous sled "driving" skills to the more ordinary, and more common, snow shoveling skills. We did them all and had fun doing them.

At season's end, we had set a new record which will be difficult to challenge in the foreseeable future — three of our small band had become full-fledged, jacketed patrollers on the Sunday River Ski Patrol. Toby Buckingham, Tamara Bucknell-Pogue and Sam Harrity earned their pink and black jackets doubling the number of Gould Academy students to have achieved this demonstration of adult responsibility.

Blue Key

School ambassador, confident leader, friend, marketer are only a few ways to describe the Blue Key tourguides. Belonging to the Blue Key involved more than showing up to the Admissions Office a few times a month (okay, a few times a week) to walk around campus for forty minutes. Blue Key called on you to be positive, friendly, on your toes for those frequent tough questions, a good listener, articulate as you described your own experiences at Gould, patient as you listened to parents talk about their students. It required you to be in dress code, tuck in those shirts, and comb your hair. After a few initial problems locating the Art Cottage all of the tour guides had a very successful year. You put up with people you did not know staying the night in your room and visiting classes with you, while trying to make them feel at home. Many hours of your time were donated to poster sticking and licking, calling prospective parents and students, and all of those mailings. Thank you for all of your hard work . . .

Gold Key

It is not possible to say enough good things about the group of sixty dedicated students who formed the core of Gold Key 1994-95.

The group bonded early in the year as they gathered together in the frosty 6:30 AM air to hang signs and set-up for Alumni Weekend.

Gold Key's hard work continued through the Weekend as they took tickets and waited on tables at alumni meals, pointed lost alumni in the right direction, and filled in wherever they were needed. After Alumni Weekend Gold Key lent their invaluable help to the Parent's Auction where they showcased their polished meal set-up, serving, and clean-up skills for the Auction dinner followed by a long evening of modeling and running items for the live auction. December brought a festive party and holiday card writing session to Gould Academy's several hundred volunteers. Increasing gifts to the annual fund was the focus of the second half of the year and Gold Key gathered for pizza and phonathons in February and April.

This was a group of incredible students! Their enthusiasm and dedication lasted the entire school year.

Class Representatives

This year's crop of class reps was as grand as ever. They were majestic in fact, in their efforts involving weekend planning, Winter Carnival, and other assorted flavors and colors. They were virtual fountains of creativity. After helping with the orientation activities at the start of the year, the small residual crew, elected in spring of '94, pulled off a marvelous Gong Show. Attempts by the Junior Class rep to accomplish a class trip to Boston drew much attention to the duties of class reps, and showed what a spectacular job he did. Elections were held in the fall, and the new reps went right to work on Winter Carnival. A quick review of that section of the yearbook will show you how well this was pulled off. Also, the usual end of the year dance, 'The End', went off beautifully, as usual.

Proctors

Proctors returned to the Gould campus in early September excited and ready. The proctor workshop proved a little intimidating but mostly exciting. So, Sporting new Gould Academy T-shirts, we met parents, students, and the new year. There was the usual, dorm meetings, room inspection. But with responsibility came some needed fun. We ate ice cream, cookies, pizza. We went swimming (... But Mr. Baker, Brian was on your team!) And we watched two deer in the moonlight ... from the inhouse out-house (Where's the flashlight?) Proctorship was tough but fun.

Wood Working

Alliance Francaise

This year the Quebec trip left on a cold, windy, rainy Wednesday afternoon in April. The van was packed with thirteen eager students and two pro-chaperones. We arrived at L'auberge de la Paix. For four days the group sight saw and tried practicing their French in shops and cafes. The trip was better than we could have imagined.

Polar Bears

This year's polar bear season was a long one with the ice leaving Songo by mid-April. Was it the thrill of the cold water, the hope for martyrdom, or maybe just the final ice-cube that drew this group out of warm beds at 6:15 each Tuesday and Thursday morning? Led by the fearless Mr. Rackliffe, the group ventured from the icy depths of Songo to colder waters at Bog Brook and Deep Hole. "Double-dip day" will be remembered by the sneaky "2 bathing suit" trick and the season ended with a splash at the annual Songo Pond Breakfast Picnic/Dip.

National Honor Society

This year's honor society was a mix of activities. Though slow to define ourselves in the beginning, we gave a good effort later in the year. Honor society provided some "Gould Helpers" for Telstar's senior citizen dinner in the fall. But then Member's dizzying schedules caused a less than productive winter. In the spring we rebounded, providing a solid effort helping the Alumni association and working at Bethel's 'Bike Rodeo.' Lastly we concentrated on next year for NHS. Members aided faculty in the evaluation process for future members and tried to define NHS's role at the Academy.

International Students

Valkommen! (welcome in Swedish, Norwegian, and Danish)

This year's International students came from as far as Indonesia to as close as Bethel (Bonnie Crocker). The twenty six students include six multinational students who hold citizenship from the US and at least one foreign country. Countries represented include Bermuda, Canada, Saudi Arabia, France, Japan, Hong Kong, Nigeria, Slovakia, Korea, Sweden, Hungary, and Indonesia. Although no chefs in the group, some people in the Gould Community were lucky to get to know more about the cultures and customs of the homelands or our many International students.

Adios!

Ma-sa-lama!

Hej da!

Drama

The Drama Group put forth an exciting and extremel successful effort in each performance. The Fall group had the difficult task of performing Spoon River Anthology. The monologues that each actor had to learn were difficult and required a good deal of study. This set the tone for the remainder of the year.

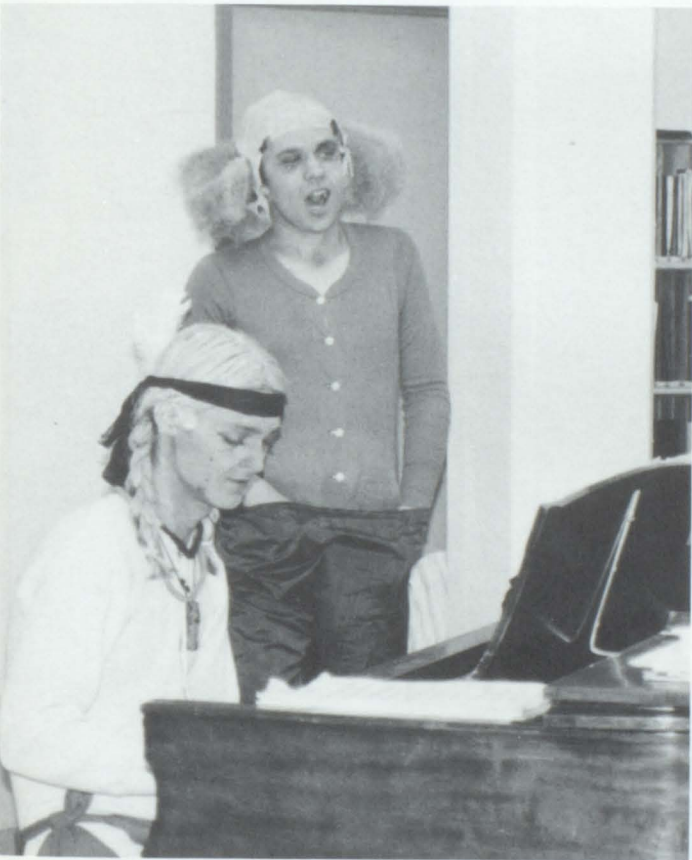

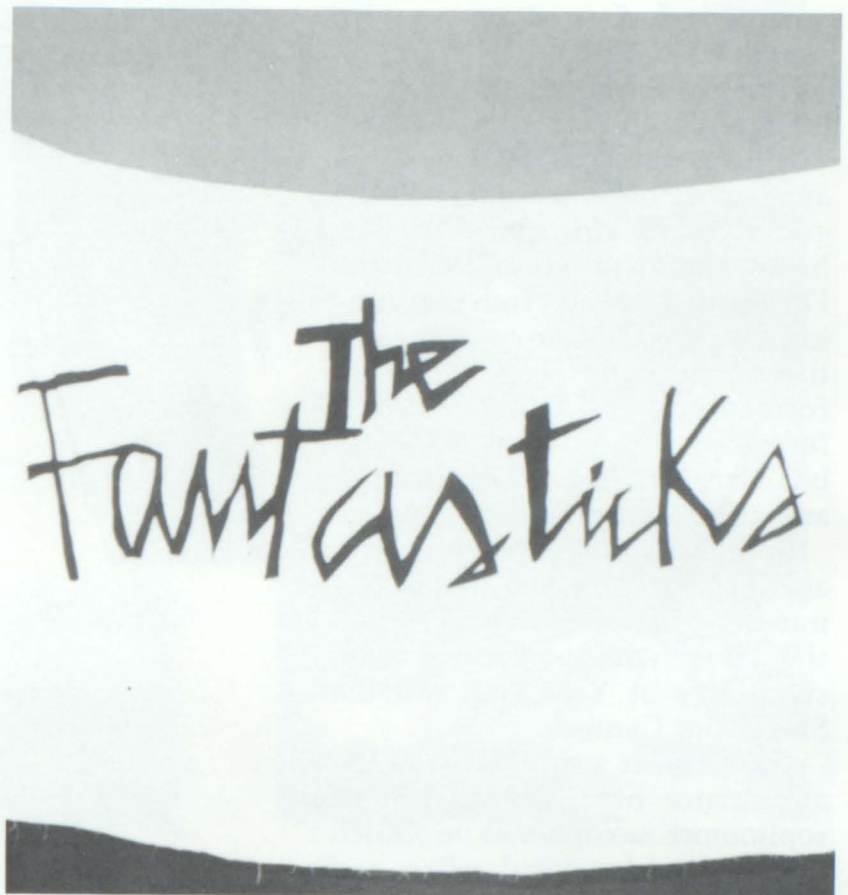

The winter group strived to put on a traditional winter farce. Black Comedy consisted of difficult timing the needed to be perfect. Overall, the play was a great success and extremely funny.

The musical of the Spring was rumored to be the best of 25 years and had wonderful reviews by all. The Fantastiks, the longest running musical on Broadway, turned out to be pretty good here on Church Street. The wonderful love story not only struck the hearts, but quickened the pulse with the sword fight, and had people rolling with laughter with Henry and Mortimer.

The variation in all the productions proved to be not only fun for the actors, but a success for each and every audience.

Music

Gould's music program saw a busy year full of many surprises. The most amazing by far was the appearance of 5 men who had the guts to really sing in public. The handsome guys we knew as the Portobellos, found often performing with their female counterparts, the Chanterells. Together they formed the Shrooms and performed not only around Gould, but also for local senior citizens, and at Holderness' May Day.

Somehow, Mr. Nelson was again able to continue an amazing number of shower singers to join the choir who performed outstandingly at Yule Fest and the StageDoor Canteen.

Other great surprises were the appearance of a whole slew of sophomore saxophones to enrich the jazz band, several cellos, and more guitar students than we could count. The Stunt Doubles had their debut at the Sud's. And Rich Dowdswell braved the morning stage and played beautiful piece of classical Spanish guitar.

Mr. Nelson, although he now has a few more gray hairs, made it through another year and even included a spectacular trip to N.Y.C.

What are we doing next year, Mr. Nelson?

Senior Four Point

Four Point found seniors headed off in all directions for service projects. The largest contingent went to Cape Cod. There the group, hampered by rain, treated themselves to apple pie and movies. What work they did included painting signs and guard towers. The Sanford group was the muscle and brawn of the senior class. They helped the Saco Nature Conservatory build a boardwalk. These "packhorses" toted wood 15 miles a day. The Illesboro group did finish work for the Illesboro Affordable Housing Project . . In their free time they did feats with various kitchen utensils. Madame's Acadia group sporting government issue outfits painted an apartment. They also assembled 13, count them, thirteeennn picnic tables. Independent senior points added to the distance covered by the seniors . .

Juniors In The Woods

The battle was long and hard with only a few casualties. As the juniors headed out of the Field House dread was heavy on their minds. Out in the woods the four P's were essential: persistence, power, positive thinking and pita.

Braving sub-zero temperatures in our fashionable Gould-issued clothing was not easy. Day after day we would strap on our snow shoes, only for them to fall off five minutes later, and hike, hike, hike.

Just when insanity was setting in and thoughts of mutiny were forming, it happened: the golden school bus sat in front of us in all its glory. Shouts of joy were heard round the world.

Sitting in a heated building reflecting on the frozen boots, cold feet and a chunk of peanut butter bigger than New Jersey, only one phrase comes to mind.

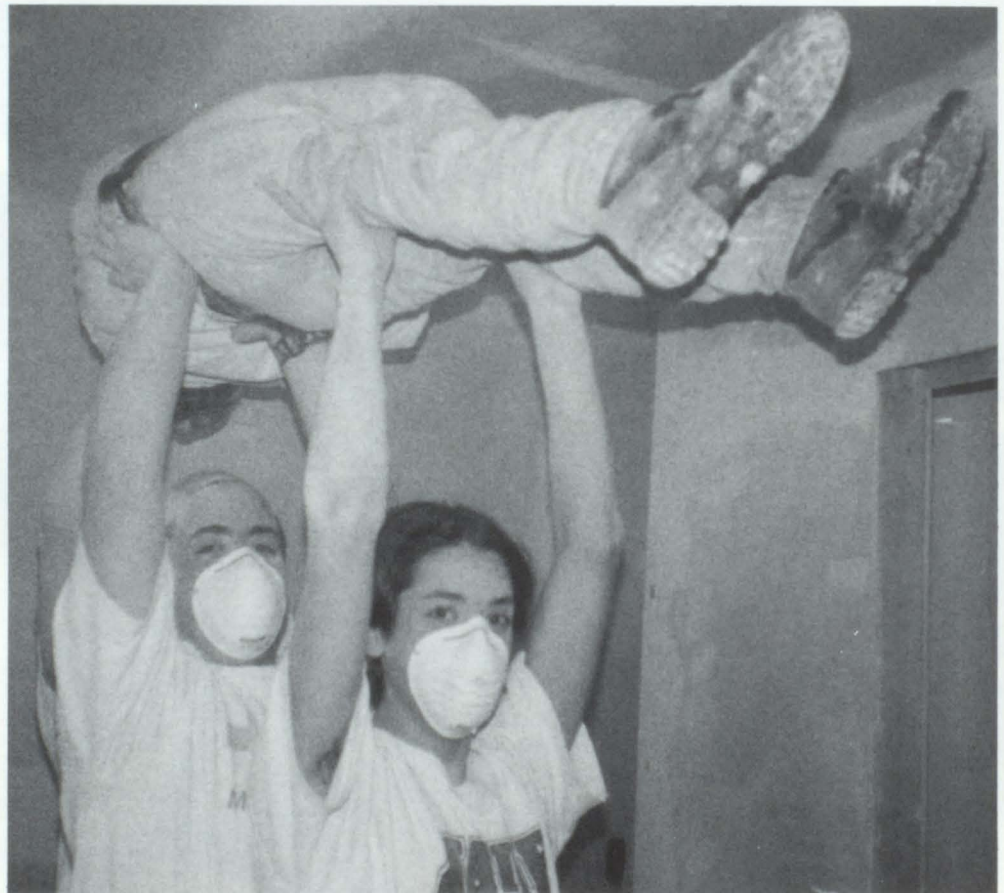

"Thank God that's over!"

Sophomores Ha

As the Sophomore class headed off to Hingham, Hartford, and Biddeford, we were all knocking on wood, and praising the Lord that we were not spending ten days in the woods of Maine with the Juniors. The different groups piled into vans knowing only that our intentions were to build homes for those people less fortunate. Not many of us had ever experienced doing this type of work before. We learned to appreciate what we as Gould students and as individuals take for granted daily. Although we were there to work, the time was also spent getting to know each other and becoming a closer class. Taken altogether it was an unforgettable learning experience with lots of new friends made.

Habitat For Humanity

Freshman Four Point - Ottawa - Toronto - Montreal

At 7:30 on Friday morning in February the Freshman class embarked on a unique urban outward bound. We battled the elements of wind and snow, movies and shopping. We explored the wilds of the Biodome and the Botanical Gardens, and navigated the complicated system of Montreal's subway. We experienced the high life of Toronto at The Phantom of the Opera, the Skydome, and the CN Tower, and slept in jail cells once inhabited by the low life of Ottawa. After a week of adventures we stumbled back to school with droopy eyelids and a lot of good memories.

Parker Gray, Peter Voigt, Jess Odlin, Tim Landry, Jon Strazza, Dave Herberich, Alistar Parker, Anna Marancik, Ms. Breslau

Ms. Breaslau's Advisee Group

Ms. Breaslau's last year at Gold was spent trying to impose order on an advisee group that thrived on chaos. She spent her dish duties trying to keep her advisee's on task while they threw grapes and tried to soak every girl they could find. The advisee functions revolved around Seinfeld and taco eating contests, in which Stanks dropped bombs, and Snoop tried to get Ms. B to buy. Afterwards the lucky ladies could be found in the kitchen or maybe Timmy was the lucky one.

Ms. Morrison's Advisee Group

Ms. Morrison's group of advisees would have been the quintessential morning crew if only morning could begin at 10:00 instead of 7:45. Early morning breakfast, however, brought out lively discussion of "weird things people have eaten", so maybe it was just as well. It was both a diverse group ranging from computer gurus, to budding musicians (both classical and rock), tech wizards and star lacrosse players. It was rounded out by Suwanto wondering about how he managed to be in a small, rural Maine town.

Ms. Morrison, Jen Leipold, Reto Morosani, Derek Zaguroli, Corey Balch, Matt Burgess, Terri Chadbourne, Suwanto Kamaruddin

Mr. And Mrs. Baker's Advisee Group

Scott Sawyer, Dana Drummond, Nate Deyesso, Chris Bassett, Lucas St. Clair, Amanda Madore, Jess Neves, Abby Lefebvre, The Bakers

Mr. Sanborn's Advisee Group

No group had better seats in the house for morning assembly than the Sanborn advisee group, though the slightly delayed duo of Tarek and Kristof might disagree. Mr. Sanborn could always count on a little pre-assembly reading material (and accompanying explanations) from the books of Chris and Heath. Our mornings included an update on Heath's snake sightings and checking on Marci to find out why she was in such a great mood. Our veteran juniors, Anna and John, kept things under control in the dish room .... Well, John did anyway. The ever smiling Eric did a nice job always keeping Mr. Sanborn guessing what he was up to. Best wishes for each of you next year and perhaps you can talk your advisor into moving up to the front row.

Erik Rackliffe, Anna French, John Batten, Mr. Sanborn, Marcy LaVallee, Tarek Rached, Chris Bill, Heath Quirk.

Devin Riley, Mr. Hutchins, Chaz Siegler, Shane Swinburne, Drew Drummond, Brendan Feitelberg, EJ Cheney, Anji Grajewski.

Mr. Hutchins' Advisee Group

Seinfeld and Ben & Jerry's bring our group together. Everyone's cooking ability has been expanded this year. Hutch's culinary talents have progressed the most out of everyone's with Anji's help, that is. He can now make the ultimate apple pie. Between our bowling and Chinese outings we take turns cooking. Devin and Chaz concocted pizza, EJ was denied his attempt at making Ramen for eight, so with Abby, his visiting guest, he made us spaghetti instead. We're still awaiting Feitelberg's Chicken Dijon ...

After Christmas Christoffer Sandberg joined our group and our dish duty opportunities. Those opportunities seem the toughest for the group to remember. Anji comments: "I've managed to survive with this group of crazy boys though sometimes I've had to use my elbows, (although all of us know that she could just as easily "break their elbows or crack their jaws ...").

Mr. Ford's Advisee Group

Many famous figures have passed through Mr. Ford's advisee group throughout the eons. We dodged dish duty the way some dodge the draft. At advisee functions, both orthodox and bizarre, we had discussions ranging from anarchy, to cold fish, to juggling, to sinusoidal subdivisions. We will miss our extroverted leader, Eung-Kwon, who is moving on to bigger and better things.

Mr. Ford, Joran Elias, Matt Walker, Eung Kwon Lee, Ben Stockwell, Darby Hickey.

Advisees: Chun Chow, Takehito Kasahara, Chris McNevich, Taylor Phillips, Lanny Popoola, Andrew Smith, Nathaniel Thibodeau, Tom Westley.

Miss Head's Advisee Group

Advisee event of the year: Pizza Party
Party buster of the year: Ghoti (fish)

We are glad Ian's shoulder is alright. Jodi should have played lacrosse. The saga continues: Hillary, Hannah and Eric are still arguing over who gets dishroom window. Lauren is the rookie, taking it all in. Rich continues to subject his body to new pain thresholds. Shelly keeps everyone in line- cute ... but deadly. Hai-ya! Favorite Dog: Tonka

Lauren Withers, Rich Littlefield, Shelley MacQuinn, Eric Renna, Miss Head, Ian Bissonnette, Jodi Odlin, Hannah Quimby, Hillary Harrison

Mr. Gardner's Advisee Group

Perhaps this was an appropriate "wild bunch" for an unusual year at The Academy. Distinct individuals came together to form a strangely unified community which in its own way made it to the top as proved by the Mountain Day photo. Seniors Jill Huntsburger, Aaron Lockwood, and Troy Zerveskes had a life after Gould on their minds, but Dylan, Go, Greg, Meghan, and Shon still have not quite reached the end on the road yet, which is more than can be said of their advisor.

Aaron Lockwood, Dylan Hershman, Troy Zerveskes, Mr. Gardner, Greg Renna, Meghan Skea, Shon Flaherty, Go Ishii, Jill Huntsburger

Mr. Nelson's Advisee Group

It all started one early Monday morning when we looked upon each other and saw that we were the Best Looking and Best Dressed advisee group. We had at the helm, Mr. Paul Nelson with his voice and cooking abilities beyond belief. The rest of the gang (Jason, Katie, Chloe, Maggie, Justin, John and Nathaniel) just stood in awe. The memory of the dish room and trips to Breau's will live on forever. Thanks to Mrs. Nelson and Parker, for without you, it just wouldn't have been the same. From everybody in the advisee group, Thank you.

Nathaniel Fredericks, John Wood, Chloe Tartaglia, Justin Browne, Mr. Nelson, Katie Chapman, Jason Gazzilli, Margaret Shaner

Livka Farrell, Ian Cleary, Tamara Bucknell-Pogue, Eugene Covington, Ms. Lee, Amanda Gilbert, Becca Fraser

Mr. Rackliffe's Advisee Group

For another year our group has been all male because that's the way it should be. Group members include Chris Cardello, Ben Hall, Toji Perlman, Ian Paquette, Nate Bartel, Peter Cline, Matt Lemieux and Chris Shearer.

Once again, the group has had some great functions this year. Less significant functions included barbecues at Mr. Rackliffe's house once a week in the fall and spring. Our best function was the trip to DisneyWorld. It was just a pain when Ben and Chris S. lost their luggage, but pretty exciting when Nate Bartel and Peter Cline fell off Space Mountain. Anyway, that's a summary of our group for this year.

Ms. Lee's Advisee Group

Back home, in the Republic of Indonesia, Suzanto Lie does not do dishes. This much Ms. Lee's advisee's (Tamara, Amanda and Amanda, Ian, Eugene, Becca, Livka and Suzanto) learned this year.

Ian Paquette, Matt Lemieux, Ben Hall, Chris Shearer, Chris Cardello, Nate Bartel, Peter Cline, Mr. Rackliffe, Toji Perlman

Brett Cooper, Min Koo Kang, Brock Pellerin, David Riss, Mr. McGuire, Matt Wright, Jarrod Crockett

Ms. Bunt's Advisee Group

This years group consisted of Erin McCormick, Jen Allard, Thea Murphy, Yuji Noguchi (the ski bum), Genevieve Wood (the bug eater and Swahili scholar), Mike Cleary, Josh Wharton, and the crazy Swede Elin Jonsson. We all had a great time getting to know each other. The pizza party and marshmallow cookout were a blast. Thanks for being a great advisor Mr. Bunt.

Love,
Your Advisees

Josh Wharton, erin McCormick, Elin Jonson, Yuji Noguchi, Jen Allard, Genevieve Wood, Thea Murphy, Ms. unt, Mikey

Mr. Davis's Advisee Group

Another advisee function and where are the keys? How did Maggie manage to get them on her collar like that? Brendon Cooley, the California boy, - cooking, polar bears, volunteering to go to Tuts in the morning!? Green Tabasco, Habanero salsa ... GEEZ! Dish rack!!! Mark and the puzzle ... he finally got it. Bonnie and her "shelf"ishness. Strangers in good company (old ladies on a bus). Keavy, the last of the red heads. Everyone except Mac Tacky Tie Davis passed the IQ test. The Dartmouth girl ... "How do you spell IQ?" Brit and her guilty conscience. You have no money left in your account AGAIN! Maggie got mad at Brendon for taking her chair. Another weekend MJ?! Big-ears-Bass: "I heard that!" Mr. Davis: "I don't get it!"

Mr. Davis, Keavy Cook, Mark Harries, Brittany Cooper, MJ Reed, Brendon Cooley, Annaliese Bass, Bonnie Crocker, Chris Shaner

Mr. Wight's Advisee Group

A picture is worth a thousand words.

Jess Trundy, Ethan Covey, Toby Buckingham, Andrew Smith, Asher Ghertner, Sam Harritty, Mr. Wight.

Mark Gosbee, Claire Gros, Nedda Campbell, Leah Bonnema, Mme. Ouwinga, Brian Callahan, Stefan Foord, Dwight Blake, Rob Blake.

Mme. Ouwinga's Advisee Group

I will miss "my" artsy, zany, but never boring advisees! It's a "clean sweep". RISD, McGill, Plymouth State, Kent State, Colby-Sawyer, U. of R.I., France — hold on, here we come!

Dr. O's Advisee Group

There has been a lot of activity in the "Ozone" this year. Kendra and Marie spent the winter term in Spain and France respectively. Kamilla joined us from Hungary in January. Also new to this group are Amber, Sung-Mo and Caitlin who were in the Fall line-up.

We will miss Marie, Kendra and Rich who graduate and move on to fame and fortune. Kamilla must return to Hungary, and we will miss her as well.

Dr. O, Rich Dodswell, Sung-Mo Yang, Caitlin Bass, Amber MacKenzie, Kamilla Kiss, Jess Fernandez, Marie Lowell, Kendra Hutchinson.

Mrs. Owen's Advisee Group

This year Mrs. Owen's advisee group consisted of all new seniors and PG's except for Corey Coogan and Jen Curley. From "When are you going to wash your hair, Rob?" to "Never let the Fleas of a thousand camels invade your armpits while sleeping or going to the bathroom" (Saudi advice from Mel Rose) everyone has a great time together. Exquisite trips to Tuts, Chinese Food restaurants, and Pat's Pizza. Not even power outages stopped this group from having a nice family style dinner together.

Mel Rose, Trey Barrow, Corey Coogan, Joanna Owen, Allen Siegrist, Rob Graves, Mrs. Owen, Bert Brandon.

Mrs. Johnson's Advisee Group

Our functions were based on quality, not quantity. However, we managed to get to know each other. Hiro had trouble remembering dish duty, but he got very good at taking trash out. Laurie and Betsey were always smiling. The other day students, Nancy and Chuck, arrived in stages.

Melinda and Vicky learned to ask about tennis practice to chance the subject. Gabriella and Marlena did their part and kept us awake in Saturday morning assemblies.

Nancy Morgan, Betsy Kuzyk, Laurie Young, Vickie Bell, Melinda Johansen, Hiro Yanagimoto, Mrs. Johnson, Chuck Mason, Temma Stout.

Mr. Newell's Advisee Group

This year's advisee group consisted of Nate "Troop B" Wight, Mike "Aerospace" Rackliffe, Jason "motorcycle" Fraser, Walter "tee time" Hawkes, Shawn "B-ball" Morales, Chip "Pump fiction" Liscombe, BJ "The womanizer" Otten, Molley "the only sane one" Maloney and last but not least Mr. "Culinary arts" Newell. This year's advisees have dedicated their hard work and time to honor the great Charles "Noodle" Newell.

Chip Liscombe, Mike Rackliffe, Shawn Morales, Nate Wight, BJ Otten, Jason Fraser, Molley Maloney, Walter Hawkes, Mr. Newell.

Ms. Whalen's Advisee Group

How will we remember the year? Will brownies and B&J's prevail, Lindsay? How about stories of flying rodents, Tom? Or being to assemblies on time, Sung? And the added challenge of sitting in your seat, Wyatt? Amy, the Ms. Whalen giggle-alike Swinton, will you recall not being able to stop giggling when this happened to Wyatt? Chris, will you just shake your head at my inability to remember that we had dishes? Julie, on cold days will you think to yourself, "where is my jacket?" Will any of you wear your wool hats? Collectively, we had a good time together.

Individually, we discovered a good deal about ourselves - "in the midst of difficulty lies opportunity" could have been the theme for the year. One last word shared from an address T.S. Eliot made to his students:

"Whatever you think, be sure it is what you think; whatever you want, be sure it is what you want; whatever you feel, be sure it is what you feel. It is bad enough to think and want the things your elders want you to think and feel, but it is still worse to think and want just like all your contemporaries."

Amy Swinton, Tom Eckfeldt, Wyatt Giles, Julie Dana, Chris Millet, Sung Woo Park, Lindsay Richardson, Ms. Whalen

Ms. Pooley's Advisee Group

The Pooley crew is a serendipitous collection of assorted sophomores and seniors. First there is Abby Wiggin, who after four winters of skiing, has discovered her passion for worshipping the sun gods of the south with fins, snorkel, and mask. Eric Ritter is preparing to follow his love for the natural world to the western Rockies next year. Anna Mosca has come so far in two years that it's hard to remember who she was before, but we won't soon forget Clea, the character she played in "The Black Comedy". Marlis is our field hockey star, whose quiet grace, vibrant friendliness, and warm smile will be missed at Gould. Among the sophomores are Dan LeBlanc, top level ski racer, Christmas tree grower, trout fisherman, and quiet scholar, truly a Renaissance man; Kate Graham, aggressive MAISAD Championship goalie as well as introspective and sensitive writer; Mike Rose from Saudi Arabia, Led Zeppelin fanatic, who has combated shyness by appearing in two plays; and, far from least Cathy Morgan, veteran Polar Bear, who this spring seized the school record for Most Years as a Polar Bear from Kevin Davis, '91.

Mr. Taylor's Advisee Group

"Curious crew if she do say so."

Scott Vaughan, Brett Harvey, Mr. Gardner, Christine Monzel, Jeremy Vail, Kristan Grosso, Nick Dudley, Mrs. Gardner, Sasha Rearick, Eva Cardova, Abbey Gardner, Doug Gardner

Sue And Uel Gardner's Advisee Group

This year we had many pasta dinners over at the Gardners' with entertainment provided by Abbey "Storm". The group consisted of all ski racers except Scott who was on the ski patrol and Kristin played B-ball. Next year, Nick will continue racing for Sunday River. Sasha, well we know he will be skiing somewhere maybe in France or Colorado. Jeremy, after lettering in three varsity sports, will be the only returning senior in the group. Eva, the Slovakian national ski team member, will hopefully return and have another great season. Christine, another three sport player, will return and be skiing the eastern cup series. Bret "Heavy-duty" will live up to his name if he hits the weights hard. Uel is moving on to bigger and better things. We wish him luck in whatever he does. Sue, well it will be another great year at the academy with her kids. We would like to thank Uel and Sue for always being on our side.

Josh Smilovitz, Nate Garlick, Jay Horne, Emily Mayes, Meghan Eckfeldt, Dave Bennett, Erin Kailey, Mr. Alford.
